

OHS COMMUNICATION PROCEDURE

SCOPE

This Procedure relates to all activities under the management and control of Monash University and applies to affected staff, students, contractors and visitors.

For the purpose of this procedure, references to 'the University' includes activity at Monash University Australia, Monash University Malaysia, Monash University Indonesia, Monash Suzhou, the Monash University Prato Centre and World Mosquito Program Ltd (and its subsidiaries), unless indicated otherwise.

PROCEDURE STATEMENT

The purpose of this Procedure is to define the Monash University process for communicating relevant OHS information to staff, students, visitors and contractors.

1. Abbreviations

MUOHSC	Monash University Occupational Health and Safety Committee
OH&S	Monash Occupational Health & Safety
OHS	Occupational Health and Safety
OHSMS	Occupational Health and Safety Management System

2. OHS Communication Procedure

2.1 Accessing the Occupational Health and Safety Management System (OHSMS)

The OHSMS is available via the OH&S website; This includes:

- OHS policies;
- OHS procedures;
- Forms and checklists;
- OHS guidelines and guidance notes;
- Emergency information;
- On-line databases (e.g. S.A.R.A.H., ChemWatch);

2.2 OHS Noticeboards

The Head of Unit must ensure that OHS notice boards are allocated in each workplace and that important OHS related information is prominently displayed.

All OHS notice boards must display current information relating to:

- A contact list (template is provided in Section 7) that includes contact details of the
 - Elected Health & Safety Representatives for the area;

- Safety Officer/s;
- Building and Floor Wardens;
- First Aiders.
- OHS Policy;
- Health and Safety Issue Resolution flowchart; and
- The "If you are injured at work" Poster noting the contact details of the Monash University WorkSafe agent.

Additional OHS information relevant to the local area (such as the contact details of the area's OHS Consultant/Advisor, specific safety standing orders, etc.) may be displayed on OHS notice boards. The information displayed should be checked for currency and updated on a periodic basis to ensure accuracy of information.

2.3 Changes in the workplace

Operational Managers/Supervisors must ensure that workers are alerted to any impending changes to their workplace that have the potential to impact upon their health and safety to allow adequate time for Consultation in accordance with the OHS Consultation Procedure. The nature of the change will dictate the most appropriate communication tool to be used (e.g. SMS, email, face-to-face meeting).

The changes may include new products, services and processes, or changes to existing products, services and processes, including:

- Workplace locations and surroundings;
- Work organisation;
- Working conditions;
- Equipment;
- Work force.

Affected workers must be provided with the:

- Rationale for the change;
- Details on the expected outcome of the change;
- Potential benefits and consequences of a change;
- The manner and extent to which consultation will be facilitated in relation to this matter.

Records of the communication must be kept in accordance with the OHS Records Management Procedure.

2.4 Changes to OHS related services

The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager must ensure that any changes to OHS related services (e.g. counselling services, return to work, OHS training, OHS auditing) are communicated to stakeholders via the OHS Consultants' Report. The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager may also choose to communicate these changes via:

- Email to relevant role holders;
- Monash Workplace posts on either the OHS Group and/or the Safety Officer Group;

2.5 Changes to OHS Legislation

The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager must ensure that all relevant changes to OHS legislation are communicated to stakeholders via The OHS Consultants' report. The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager may also choose to communicate these changes via:

- Monash University Occupational Health and Safety Committee (MUOHSC);
- Email to relevant role holders;
- Monash Workplace posts on either the OHS Group and/or the Safety Officer Group;

2.6 Changes to the OHSMS

The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager must ensure that:

2.6.1 Major changes to the OHSMS, in accordance with the Management of OHS Actions Procedure must be communicated to all stakeholders via:

- MUOHSC;
- An email to Safety Officers, Health & Safety Representatives and OHS Committee Chairs;
- Local OHS Committees via the Consultants' report;
- The OHSMS Change Register.

2.6.2 Moderate changes must be communicated via:

- The OHSMS Change Register.

The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager may also choose to notify of any changes to the OHSMS via Monash Workplace posts on either the OHS Group and/or the Safety Officer Group.

2.7 OHS Induction and Training

Communication through the online OHS induction, the local area induction program, centrally managed OHS training and any locally delivered OHS training must be in accordance with the OHS Induction and Training Procedure.

2.8 Emergency Information

Communication during emergencies on-campus must be in accordance with the Provision of Emergency Communication Systems Procedure.

The responsible person/s for responding to emergencies during off-campus activities must be identified prior to activities commencing and must be provided with communications systems that enable timely and clear information. Options may include:

- Mobile phone or landline;
- Warden Intercommunication “red” Phones (WIP) or via the emergency speaker;
- 2-way radio or UHF communication devices;
- Audible and visual alarms (fire alarm, gas detector alarms); or
- Remote area communication devices such as Emergency Position Indicating Radio Beacon (EPIRB).

2.9 OHS Committee

Before each OHS Committee meeting, the OHS Committee Chair must ensure that notice of the meeting is circulated to their stakeholders and that this provides a means of requesting agenda items.

The OHS Committee chair must ensure that relevant items are included on the agenda for the meeting and that the requester is invited to the meeting.

Minutes of meetings must be kept and made accessible to all relevant stakeholders. OHS committee meeting minutes must be:

- Only accessible to relevant stakeholders when posted on websites;
- Sent to the area’s OHS Consultant/Advisor as soon as possible after the meeting.

3. OHS Reporting Tools

The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager must ensure that tools are made available that adequately provide information on trends and patterns that can be used to identify OHS performance. The primary OHS reporting tool is the OHS Dashboard.

4. Feedback to OH&S

Feedback on the OHSMS and related services is used to continually improve the OHSMS. Feedback can be provided via:

- The HSW Help and Feedback form;
- Email to the ohshelpline@monash.edu (if you do not have access to the above form);
- Telephone 990 20222;
- The Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager or their delegate (e.g. OHS Consultant or Advisor).

It is the responsibility of the Health, Safety and Wellbeing Manager to acknowledge any feedback received within one week.

5. Responsibility for Implementation

A comprehensive list of OHS responsibilities is provided in the document OHS Roles, Responsibilities and Committees Procedure.
